4-30-2015 Yesterdays writings below about the Paris women taken out of her car and shot to death by a Moslem and the Paris NY Times reporter started the story with she was in the wrong place at the wrong time, simple twist of fate... Then yesterday I wrote about the Bronx Women running naked shot to death and that the NY Times reporter didn't start the story with she was in the wrong place at the wrong time, simple twist of fate... well the 2015 ElectricWindmillFord Escort would have saved both these women from being shot to death. The NY Times will correct both stories when they are allowed to mention the 2015 ElectricWindmillFord Escorts on the Front page of the NY Times, until then Paris NY Times will report women taken out of their gasoline car and shot to death were in the wrong place at the wrong time, simple twist of fate, far as the NY Times reporters in NYC they will face the firing squad for not reporting on the 2105 ElectricWindmillFord Escorts, 1 trillion made on the Bronx assembly lines and workers getting in 100 hours a week on the assembly lines making much more than the NYC reporters. Grin! Fate of not making 1 Trillion ElectricWindmillFord Escorts by Today and $7 Trillion from BP Oil direct deposited into Apple Bank accounts for Billions of MacBook Air + Pro with built in iPhone 7 for everyone in the USA... Bill + Melinda would have been shot by the firing squad in 1980, fate is Hell on 300 Million Americans Today because they escaped their fate of being shot to death by the 1984 III MD Women Dictators in 1980.

4-30-2015 Truly a heinous crime... At 2:25 a.m. Wednesday, a student was robbed and assaulted on campus, Yale Police Department Chief Ronnell Higgins wrote in an email to the University community. Higgins' email, sent around 5:00 a.m. Wednesday, reported that a female undergraduate entered the Morse-Stiles walkway from York Street, when a man approached her from behind, knocked her to the ground and stole her purse. The man reportedly then fled to York Street, entering a blue vehicle to leave the scene of the crime. Higgins noted that the YPD is currently investigating the incident, also encouraging those with information to contact the department (203) 432-4400. "As a general reminder, it is important to walk with others when possible in well lit and populated areas. Avoid displaying valuables such as cash or portable electronic devices," he wrote. "Make use of security services including shuttle services and security escorts." Higgins' email was sent in compliance with the requirements of the Federal Clery Act.

4-30-2015 Truly a heinous crime ...forced her to undress in her car, chased her as she tried to flee and then shot her in the street, killing her, police officials said on Tuesday. Witnesses told detectives that the victim, Ana Charle, 36, ran naked in the street from the suspect, West Spruill, 39, who was also naked as he chased her and opened fire. "They hear nothing but the shots," a police official, who spoke on the condition of anonymity to discuss a continuing investigation, said of the accounts provided by witnesses, several of whom had dialed 911. "It is fairly close range," the official said. "This is as bad a homicide as I've seen." As Ms. Charle, of Queens, fell to the sidewalk on Bullard Avenue, near East 237th Street, the gunman returned to her car, put his clothes back on and walked away, clutching two bags, police officials said, citing the witnesses' accounts. Protruding from one of those bags was a gun, which the police said officers found when they took Mr. Spruill into custody. Outside the Project Renewal homeless shelter on Bronx Boulevard, near East 237th Street, in the Bronx on Tuesday night.

4-30-2015 PARIS — France has announced it will sell 24 Rafale fighter jets to Qatar in a 6.3 billion euro ($7 billion) deal. The agreement is to be signed Monday in Qatar's capital, Doha, in the presence of the French president, Francois Hollande, presidency services announced Thursday. With this sale, French arms exports already exceed 15 billion euros ($16.8 billion) this year, a defense official said on condition of anonymity because he was not authorized to speak publicly on the matter. Qatar becomes the third buyer of France's delta-winged Rafale, manufactured by Dassault Aviation. India announced plans to buy 36 Rafale jets earlier this month and Egypt bought 24 of them in February. "It's almost 100 Rafale that are going to be delivered within the next few years", Hollande said during a visit in the city of Brest, in the west of France. "That makes a lot of work, a lot of jobs, a lot of economic benefits".

A former resident of a Bronx homeless shelter returned there Monday night, abducted its director, forced her to undress in her car, chased her as she tried to flee and then shot her in the street, killing her, police officials said on Tuesday. Witnesses told detectives that the victim, Ana Charle, 36, ran naked in the street from the suspect, West Spruill, 39, who was also naked as he chased her and opened fire. "They hear nothing but the shots," a police official, who spoke on the condition of anonymity to discuss a continuing investigation, said of the accounts provided by witnesses, several of whom had dialed 911. As Ms. Charle, of Queens, fell to the sidewalk on Bullard Avenue, near East 237th Street, the gunman returned to her car, put his clothes back on and walked away, clutching two bags, police officials said, citing the witnesses' accounts. Protruding from one of those bags was a gun, which the police said officers found when they took Mr. Spruill into custody. Outside the Project Renewal homeless shelter on Bronx Boulevard, near East 237th Street, in the Bronx on Tuesday night. Credit Michael Appleton for The New York Times Detectives from the 47th Precinct also found three .40-caliber shell casings in the street, the officials said. Ms. Charle had bullet wounds to her temple, cheek and chest, the officials said. She was taken to Montefiore Medical Center, where she was pronounced dead. On Tuesday evening, an autopsy was being performed, in part to determine whether Ms. Charle had been raped, the officials said. Ms. Charle came from Barcelona, Spain, when she "was an adult, already in her 20s," said Wanda L. Rijo, 44, who works as the clinical director at the shelter on Bronx Boulevard and who described Ms. Charle as "my best friend." Ms. Rijo said Ms. Charle was a caring person who had two daughters, ages 9 and 11. "She was a wonderful person," said Ms. Rijo. "An excellent mother, a hard worker. She was a great leader. She was the director of the program and very caring about the population that we work with." Mr. Spruill was charged with second-degree murder and criminal possession of a weapon and was taken to Jacobi Medical Center, said Terry Raskyn, a spokeswoman for the Bronx district attorney's office, who said an arraignment would not occur before Wednesday. Ms. Rijo said she remembered Mr. Spruill, a "client there," who she said had "mental health issues." She added: "I remember what he looked like. He was there for seven months. He stands out. He wore like dark sunglasses. He was kind of paranoid." Gary Alcindor, a former boyfriend of Ms. Charle's, said she had been aware of the dangers of her job and had transferred to the shelter in the Bronx partly because of safety concerns at a previous location. "She's had incidents before," he said. He said she had asked for more security. Mr. Spruill has a history of run-ins with the law, police officials said, outlining an arrest record dating to 1993 in New York City that included charges of robbery, assault and criminal possession of a gun. Records show Mr. Spruill spent eight years in state prison in Michigan, from 2006 through January 2014, for assault with a dangerous weapon, the officials said. "He assaulted people in jail, while he was there, as well," said the official who discussed the case at length. Once freed, and without any parole restrictions, Mr. Spruill made his way back to New York, turning up in the city's shelter system last year, the official said. He was arrested in Downtown Brooklyn last month on a charge of misdemeanor assault, the official said. By June, Mr. Spruill was living at the Project Renewal Shelter, a 108-bed shelter for men at 4380 Bronx Boulevard, police officials said. On Jan. 6, he moved to a shelter in Manhattan, where he stayed until April 8, the official said. It was at the Bronx shelter that investigators say they believe Mr. Spruill encountered Ms. Charle and came to target her. "That is our thinking now," said the official, pointing out that investigators had yet to question Mr. Spruill extensively, as he immediately requested a lawyer. "He is a professional criminal. He shut down as soon as we grabbed him." For her part, Ms. Charle had no idea she was being targeted and as far as investigators knew had "no relationship" with Mr. Spruill, the official said. Officials with the city's Department of Homeless Services said Ms. Charle had worked at Project Renewal for four years and was appointed director at the Bronx shelter in October 2013, about three months before it opened.

When freed 1,001 Invention Projects on a CD and my web page

These officials said people who worked with Ms. Charle remembered her as "a dedicated and loving person, who was a hardworking advocate on behalf of homeless New Yorkers." They said that they were working with the police "to determine the cause of this senseless and horrific act," and that they were also working with Project Renewal to provide counseling to the shelter's staff. "D.H.S. is deeply saddened by this tragic loss," the department said in a statement. "Our condolences, prayers and thoughts are with the Charle family." City Councilman Andrew Cohen, a Democrat who represents part of the Wakefield neighborhood, where the shelter is, said he had been calling for increased security there for months. He said people staying at the shelter had made more than 175 calls to 911 this year, and hundreds more last year, taxing community and police resources. DHS officials said Tuesday that they had been working with the community to address their safety concerns. On Tuesday night, those gathered at Ms. Charle's residence in Whitestone, Queens, said they were in mourning and too distraught to speak. In the Bronx on Tuesday night, on a desolate stretch of Bullard Avenue, a single votive candle flickered near the scene of the shooting as men from the shelter stood around recalling the violence of the night before. Two said they had heard the gunfire and ran to the street, where they learned a suspect was caught at the BRP Car Wash & Lube. One man, who asked not to be identified, broke into tears as he spoke about Ms. Charle. "That's not a way to go," he said. "She had a heart of gold and she always had time for everybody." Another man, Jemall DeJesus, said Ms. Charle's attempts to avoid violence by parking around the corner from the shelter did not work. "She parks her car down here cause she doesn't want people to see the car she drives," he said. But ultimately, he said, her killer was "lying in wait for her." Winnie Hu, Daniel E. Slotnik and Rebecca White contributed reporting. Elisa Cho contributed research.

This has to be a Cardinal Sin by Pope Francis and who ever at the NY Times but him on Today's Front page! Aurélie Châtelain, a 32-year-old fitness instructor and mother of a 5-year-old daughter, had been shot and killed in a Paris suburb, this is not a simple twist of fate as AURELIEN BREEDEN at the Paris NY times wrote it up. Aurelien is a 1984 II War criminal getting kickbacks and French gov. perks not to write that if ms Aurélie Châtelain, were driving a 2015 Electric Windmill Ford Escort she would not be in the NY Times Today as murdered for her gasoline car!

iPhone 6,348 is to long to wait for this state of the arts technology but without the NY Times putting this invention projects on the front page with links Inventors can click on... and without Sony moving from the Batman and Furious 7 Era we might have to wait on Apple's iPhone 6,348 to identify which antibiotic will work... identify the bacteria!!! Virus is light years from bacteria...

4-28-2015 ...on the Front Page of the NY Times... The real issues is being able to identify which antibiotic will work. Today that takes days and involves guess work that often prevents a powerful early attack against the bacteria. Researchers at Johns Hopkins are now working on a new technology that will allow clinicians to identify the bacteria that is causing the infection and the antibiotic that will treat it.

Many 100's of Millions of people die of hernias, infected gall bladders, bleeding under the skull and other conditions that surgeons routinely handle, some with cataracts go blind... this NY Times Health reporter needed to visit Catholic Charities in Key West part of Saint Mary's Church as Jim Lawrence is living in one of their rooms for low income seniors but has not enough money for cataract surgery in Key West so he will go blind via Money in Key West not Calcutta! Tomorrows NY Times Heath follow up might write up Jim Lawrence in Key West... unless the NY Times has a blind eye to this via the BOSS... orders!

London Royal Society of Medicine. Journals Surgery and The Lancet Global Health. A third of the world's population lives in poor countries, but only 5 percent of the 313 million annual surgeries take place in those countries, the report found.

1984 III MD Dictators will have Surgeons working 24/7 like the assemblers on the Electric Windmill Ford Escort Assembly lines... Harvard Md NY Times article on lack of Surgeons to do Surgery is caused by our 1984 II Numb Nuts Dictators

Dr. John Meara, a professor of global surgery at Harvard Medical School and a lead author of the report.
