The article is titled "Pakistan's Loss: A Beacon of Free Thought" and is written by Bina Shah. The article is dated MAY 6, 2015. The article's text is as follows:

KARACHI, Pakistan — In Pakistan, Karachi is known as the City of Lights. Whenever I fly back here and see those lights, my heart jumps happily because I know I'm home. But at the end of April, as I returned from abroad over the ribboning streets, my heart throbbed with infinite loss. Days before, the brightest light in Karachi had been extinguished forever.

That light, to me, was Sabeen Mahmud, whom I met in the 1990s, after I returned from studies in the United States. I became the editor of a computer magazine, and was interviewing Sabeen at a multimedia company she had helped start. The Internet had come to Pakistan in 1996,

The Attacks on Malala Yousafzai + Sabeen Mahmud made more headlines in the NY Times than the Murder of Mary Kennedy by Robert Kennedy Jr. because "Kennedy" bought off the NY Times just like he bought off the Judge who took her 5 kids. Mary Kennedy will make the Front Page of the NY Times when Robert Kennedy Jr. is arrested for her Murder in the Kennedy Barn...

Sabeen Mahmud Two weeks ago, two of those enemies took her life, gunning her down as she drove home with her mother from a talk by Baloch activists. T2F had hosted the event after the Lahore University of Management Sciences had heeded a warning by security agencies not to let the activists speak. Sabeen chose to ignore such intimidation; fear could not break her spirit. She died as she lived.

returned from studies in the United States. I became the editor of a computer magazine, and was interviewing Sabeen at a multimedia company she had helped start. The Internet had come to Pakistan in 1996, and suddenly everyone I knew was talking about websites and Internet service providers and dial-up access to an information superhighway. That highway would soon connect Pakistan, then hesitantly emerging from a dictatorship's information control, to the rest of the world. But few people recognized its potential, and many dismissed the Internet with suspicion or

The Attacked on Malala Yousafzai made more headlines in the NY Times than the Murder of Mary Kennedy by Robert because he "the Kennedy's" bought off the NY Times just like Robert bought off the Judge who took Mary Kennedy's 5 kids away from her! This is a Crime, both are crimes against the Extremists Idea to get 1,001 Nobel's in Medicine a Year and Discovering a way to travel 1,001 Times faster than the speed of light with the new Gravity Engine for "Flying Cars" which will move ahead of other invention projects at Berkeley thanks to Christy's Masterminding Traffic Jams, grin. 5-6-2015 French Army Is Buying Fleet of Ford Pickup Trucks... By DAVID JOLLY NY Times PARIS — In what might be construed as a blow to Gallic pride, the French Army will soon be patrolling La Belle France, the land of Renaults and Peugeots, in Ford Ranger pickups. The army is buying 1,000 of the Ford trucks as part of a "crash program" to begin replacing its fleet of off-road vehicles, said Pierre Bayle, a spokesman for the Defense Ministry. The army's Peugeot P4 jeeps went into service in 1983 and are becoming obsolete, he said.
