3-12-2015 Speaking of going wireless, Apple specifically mentioned how the new MacBook could get online by easily tethering to your iPhone to use its data connection. Well, not my iPhone. I'm still clinging to my unlimited data plan on AT&T—the company no longer offers unlimited data on new plans, so I've kept the same exact data plan since I got my first iPhone in 2008. The downside is, my plan doesn't support tethering. Apple needs to buy Starbucks + Verizon, really!

3-12-2015 War Reparations $777 Trillion from Gas station Hold Ups by Texas + Saudi Arabia! $77 Trillion could be direct deposited into Apple's Bank Account for 1,001 Nobel's in Medicine a Year via Hemingway House Writing Classes (Free) with a invention in every chapter and iApps to help you click on links, write with 101 others at the same time too. Din of 777 Trillion Galaxies, velocity of letting Greg + Mary in Key West work 24/7 on a Stage 4 cure instead of sitting at Starbucks on Duval is a executive decision by our 1984 II Numb Nuts Dictators who have Syphilis and give it to others at HQ. God will spit on these guys!

3-11-2015 One of the primary questions Cynthia Ozick is attempting to answer throughout this book "The Din In the Head" is the deceptively simple: What is a novel? The novel is, she writes, 'A persuasion towards dramatic interiority. A word-hoard that permits its inventor to stand undefined, unprescribed, liberated from direction or coercion.'

3-11-2015 That being said, a number of her essays do directly deal with leading Jewish authors such as Saul Bellow, Delmore Schwartz, Lionel Trilling, Isaac Babel, Gershom Scholem. Other authors include Updike, Tolstoy, Kipling, Plath and Henry James. Roughly half of the book deals with Jewish authors or themes, the other half with novels in general. While the book cannot honestly be claimed as Jewish - witness Ozick's own attack on the concept, but also consider the inappropriateness of a book on literary criticism not analysing the works of such masters as Saul Bellow - Ozick's pride in her heritage is plain. But it is not the pride that comes from grandstanding or self-propelling ambition, rather, Ozick discusses these things because they have merit to herself, and by extension, to others.

3-11-2015 'The din in our heads' 2006 by Cynthia Ozick a Jewish Women... The Din in our heads that relentless inward hum of fragility and hope and transcendence and dread - where, in an age of machine addressing crowds, and crowds mad for machines, can it be found? In the art of the novel...And nowhere else.'

3-11-2015 And Cynthia Ozick a Jewish Women... she's right, when she writes "an Alien Race..." she is not a Star Traveler in 2006 though so she had has still unless she has read this web page about the Jewish Aliens Greg + the Jewish Widow will bring to JERUSALEM. She writes... "intergalactic loneliness" "the mysteries of Women and Death" She has no idea one of the nearest stars to Earth will shine for the next 4 trillion years, 300 times the age of the current Universe.

Cossacks murdered 300,000 Jews she writes in 2006 so she knows the suppression of the Electric Windmill Ford Escort since 1980 had murdered more than 300,000 Jews + Others! At least 300 cops fire bombed in their cop cars writing a speeding ticket rearended. She has driven by a fiery car wreck! She was born in 1928. Ozick is married to Bernard Hallote, a lawyer. Their daughter, Rachel Hallote, is an associate professor of history at SUNY Purchase and head of its Jewish studies program. [4] Ozick is the niece of the Hebraist Abraham Regelson. She lives in Westchester County, New York.

3-11-2015 Lionel Trilling, a once-famous critic whose star has long since dimmed, is given a twenty-page examination, and is the saddest essay in the novel. Trilling, though respected, even revered in his own time, always chafed against the mantle of 'critic'. He wanted to be a novelist, and envied Hemingway beyond all others.

*3-11-2015 Envied Hemingway beyond all others... Eglin steel, Following the 2003 invasion of Iraq, analysis of sites that had been attacked with bunker-buster bombs (made with 30,000 lbs of Eglin steel? revealed poor penetration and inadequate levels of destruction... envied Los Alamos Nukes in the 2003 invasion of Iraq! 1984 II Numb Nuts at the Pentagon.
