11-21-14 Tropic Cinema Movie "Marry Me" I didn't make out small print listening to a non invention conversation for 15 mins. Yes I'm not execrating as ever one was watching us. 15 mins later and many thoughts of Mary, making her the wife of the Inventor of the Electric Windmill Car. Nice thoughts of Mary with video in my hippocampus, then I told her about the Yale Student News today of Bush Elementary School. And I mentioned that 100's of Elementary Kids were killed by Bush. I said car crashes without the laser guided electric windmill car on the roads! Mary said, they just closed the door better get in. Oh spilled coffee and all getting her another cup $1.50 and better coffee than Starbucks. Got into the door of the Peggy Dow and Dumb trailer of Birdman, Mary agrees... closed my eyes and movie came on "Nightcrawler" 20 mins late than posted time, I think some of the 1984 II people did this, grin. 11-19-14 "Joy" Perfume... Mr Sabillón said that Ruiz was angered when his girlfriend danced with another man at the party, which was held near some hot springs in the hills on the outskirts of the town. He said that the pair had a fight and Ruiz then took his pistol and shot her. When María José tried to run away, she was shot in the back. Mr Sabillón said that Ruiz, who was arrested on Monday, still had the gun with him. Police also arrested a second man, Aris Valentín Maldonado.

"The killers tried to hide the bodies and clean the crime scene," said Leandro Osorio, head of the National Directorate of Criminal Investigation. "Apparently the perpetrators hoped that the water would carry the bodies away, but the swift investigation prevented that."

For Mrs Muñoz, the arrest of 26-year-old Ruiz - who met Sofia when the pair of them were at school - came as little surprise.

"He is the key to all of this," she said on Monday, before the bodies were found. Neighbours of Mrs Muñoz told Honduran newspaper El Tiempo that he was a jealous man, who caused problems when he was drunk.

But Mrs Muñoz said he "got on well" with her daughters, and had been seeing Sofia, a primary schoolteacher, for three months. He earned his living through property, and managing the land left to him by his cattle rancher brother, 30-year-old David Ruiz, who was shot dead by four hit men in San Pedro Sula in February

Hawking has a motor neuron disease related to amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), a condition that has progressed over the years. He is almost entirely paralysed and communicates through a speech-generating device. He married twice and has three children. Hawking's marriage had been strained for many years. Jane felt overwhelmed by the intrusion into their family life of the required nurses and assistants. The impact of his celebrity was challenging for colleagues and family members, and in one interview Jane described her role as "simply to tell him that he's not God."

Hawking's views of religion also contrasted with her strong Christian faith, and resulted in tension. In the late 1980s Hawking had grown close to one of his nurses, Elaine Mason, to the dismay of some colleagues, caregivers and family members who were disturbed by her strength of personality and protectiveness.

Hawking told Jane that he was leaving her for Mason, and departed the family home in February 1990. Following his divorce from Jane in the spring. In 2006 Hawking and Elaine quietly divorced, following which Hawking resumed closer relationships with Jane, his children and grandchildren.

Reflecting this happier period, a revised version of Jane's book called Travelling to Infinity, My Life with Stephen appeared in 2007.

That year Hawking and his daughter Lucy published George's Secret Key to the Universe, a children's book designed to explain theoretical physics in an accessible fashion and featuring characters similar to those in the Hawking family.

The book was followed by sequels in 2009 and 2011. Also in August 2014, Hawking accepted the Ice Bucket Challenge to promote ALS/MND awareness and raise contributions for research. As he had had pneumonia in 2013, he was advised not to have ice poured over him, but his children volunteered to accept the challenge on his behalf.

11-18-14 "Storm Chasers" Launched by the design house of Jean Patou in 1972, JEAN PATOU 1000 is a women's fragrance that possesses a blend of a lovely scent of rich, fresh-cut flowers. It is recommended for romantic wear. When applying any fragrance please consider that there are several factors which can affect the natural smell of your skin and, in turn, the way a scent smells on you. For instance, your mood, stress level, age, body chemistry, diet, and current medications may all alter the scents you wear. Similarly, factor such as dry or oily skin can even affect the amount of time a fragrance will last after being applied. Ingredients Notes: Greens, Bergamot, Anjelica, Coriander, Tarragon, Chinese Osmanthus, Jasmine, Rose, Lily of the Valley, Violet, Iris, Geranium, Vetiver, Patchouli, Moss, Sandalwood, Amber, Musk, Civet.

11-17-14 ...007 November Man at the CIA hasn't gotten around to the final report, do will start another war over $777 Trillion in Oil Revenues or "Do We save Her Life?"

11-17-14 ...I told Mary B. last night she has to inspire Greg to come up with a way to reinvent an End to War + Crime, Cure Cancer + Make Contact with Aliens... I think this is what the CIA Administration is waiting for. Lets give them a Whirl Pool and Infinity Pool to think about. Thanks Giving is coming us fast. Mary B. said she will call Greg with a inspirational voice, message. Invent a way to Make Contact! with 1984 II Numb Nuts Dictators who have Alienated 5 billion people from the Start of Star Travels and Yale + Harvard getting 1,001 Nobels in Medicine a year, every year. the Rx is here, read below. Mary B. and Greg got one for Mary Kennedy... who at Yale + Harvard Failed, WHO at the UN failed to cure any of 1 Trillion diseased... diseases! WHO + UN Administration have a Infinity Pool full of crude oil, worth $777 Trillion!

11-15-14 Unlikely to Brainstorm a Rx Cure for Breast Cancer with Mary B + MD Wives in next 2 weeks!! Maybe not so "UNlikely" as Jimmy Carter + Rosalynn Carter TODAY know + realize poison deiseal particles land on the Cruise Ships they take and are TODAY in the blood of all Jimmy + Rosalynn's grand kids and great grand kids so it's not that... "UNLIKELY" Greg + Mary B. will get to have a hours long conversation in our 1984 II Society!!

11-15-14 adjective: unlikely; comparative adjective: unlikelier; superlative adjective: unlikeliest not likely to happen, be done, or be true; improbable.

11-15-14 1984 II it's very likely $777 Trillion in Oil Revenues from Gas Station Hold ups... will END!!

11-15-14 Unlikely to Brainstorm a Rx Cure for Breast Cancer with Mary B... unlikelier is the 1984 II "Womens Club" makes contact with Greg, but not Mission Impossible as a MD womens Coup is unlikeliest after reading the News from France, and no news Headlines from Paris about fiery Cop Cars + Suv's as you know its very likely there will be a fiery wreck in Paris today! Very likely this will be classified a "War Crime".

11-15-14 Unlikely to Brainstorm a Rx Cure for Breast Cancer with Mary B... unlikeliest conversation with Mary B. pushing her walker along down Olivia heading to Hemingway House would be her "accident" and reason for the walker. Likeliest is I will reinvent the walker.

11-15-14 Unlikely to Brainstorm a Rx Cure for Breast Cancer with Mary B... Birthday is coming up and she is pushing a walker, Wow! Well I can still make a Godsent Gift, write a Birthday Girl and her Walker Card.

11-15-14 Unlikely to Brainstorm a Rx Cure for Breast Cancer with Mary B... "an unlikely explanation" She said "Yes, I had a accident" I Parked my trike in front of the Paris Cafe, She said a old skiing accident I decided to take care of now. Let me be your Nurse, I have a nurse and "Doctor". Greg is the one who needs a "Doctor" ASAP!!

11-15-14 Unlikely to Brainstorm a Rx Cure for Breast Cancer with Mary B... well left a voice message that is very likely to get a roll of the eyes and response I hope as $777 Trillion is a High Stakes Poker Game + Lottery, add in 4 Trillion Years Proxmia is going to burn "H" + 1 Trillion Cans of NASA "H" change the Edison invention of electric wires going into everyone's home. 15 Billion People in need of Electricity, Keys Energy would charge so much only a few thousand could afford their electric bill.

11-15-14 Unlikely to Brainstorm a Rx Cure for Breast Cancer with Mary B... 2 Movies at the Key West Film Festival. Unlikeliest that Partners for life could survive Legal Polygamous Marriages that get 1,001 Nobels in Medicine a Year as this Polygamously Revolution and Inventing Conversation Vows... are a Marriage Made for the Start of Star Travel. Made in Heaven, the Heavens we know today, with No Aliens. Just 777 Trillion Galaxies expanding into empty space at Millions of Miles per hour. wow!

11-15-14 "Speculation Runs Wild Over New Manhattan Project for the Rx Cure of Breast Cancer!"

11-15-14 $1 Trillion dollar... EUPHORIA... looking into Mary B.'s eyes when our 1984 II Numb Nuts Dictator makes contact! Takes Scam Wars off the front page and puts Breast Cancers Trillion dollar $ Manhattan Project, and he could even announce the 155 Story Yale NYC Medical School build were the UN is today as the UN failed all the kids at the Saint Jude Childrens Hospital for Cancer caused by Holocaust II Poison Gasoline Exhaust!

11-14-14 Mormon Wives today with Breast Cancer want our 1984 II Numb Nuts Dictators to Pardon Greg so he can get a Rx Cure for Breast Cancer for Mary B's Christmas Gift!!

11-14-14 Oh No... Mary B's using a walker, old hip accident skiing. Greg, can I be your Nurse? No, I have a "Doctor" + nurse! "Doctor" if I had a iPhone 6 Plus you could hear the emphasis on Doctor, I'm been wooing MD women in my web a lot. Mary B's the best as Polygamous Marriage is ok with her. And the $ Trillion we will get from the Whistle Blowers "Page" from the $777 Trillion Robbed at gas stations by BP Oil. Mary was Sucker Punched in a gas station hole up in Miami in 2000 and the Electric Windmill Ford Escort was invented in 1980. So no gas stations should be polluting our air and no gas stations to rob in 2000! Yale + Harvard Greed their grads caused the worst Poison Gas Holocaust II in history. Baby Killers from Vietnam as Saint Jude Childrens Cancer Hospital is full. Burn Units for Children too but our 1984 II Numb Nuts made this classified and top secret. So I got a haircut at Headlines... I love the connotation, NY Times Headlines! Cherylann ask for her. I was short on the tip but gave Cherylann 3 BDay cards signed. Mary B + greg will have to wait for his + her hair styles. I hope the 1984 II Observers make contact before Mary B's is off her walker! 24/7 work on women with a Breast Cancer Walker!! ASAP!!

11-14-14 Mormon Wives today with Breast Cancer want $777 Trillion taken in gas station hold ups by 1984 II Numb Nuts Dictators $$$ given to Iraq not Breast Cancer!

Iraq retakes strategic oil town of Baiji from jihadists... Iraqi forces have recaptured the strategic oil town of Baiji in a significant victory over ISIS after more than two weeks of fighting.

11-14-14 Oh, the Key West Film Festival is here at the Tropic Cinema... I found 2 "Soul-Mate" invention projects movies that I might get a invention project from watching. "Goodbye to all That", His wife ask for a divorce, he bounces off to Facebook not InventBook!! If she was working on 1,001 IP she would not ask for a divorce. Next year 2015 Key West Film Festival, grin. Other movie is... "The Zero Theorem," Computer hackers goal is to discover the reason for human existence!!

11-14-14 Oh, the new Starbucks is open with no "Window Service"

11-14-14 the new "Apple-Starbucks" is ready to open, be opened by Greg when our 1984 II Numb Nuts make contact.

11-14-14 Oh, the new Starbucks has no wifi. I connected to Banana Republic for a hour lost the signal yesterday. So I'm at Westin - Mallory Dock. Mercy, got connected to Key West Wife here on the Dock will bike up to Starbucks on Duval in a hour or two, 10 am now.

11-14-14 Oh, working with IBM to develop future chip offerings for high-end enterprise customers, U.S. Department of Energy said on Friday it is spending $425 million to research extreme-scale computing and build two super-computers, which would be the world's fastest, for research into basic science as well as nuclear weapons. The DOE is awarding $325 million to build "Summit" for Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Tennessee and "Sierra" at the Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory in California.

11-14-14 iApps, get some high-end extreme-scale iApps that will send Bill + Melinda to Hell for no win 8.2 fix, grin! God sends them to Hell because they lost Humanity 1,001 inventions and cures for cancer by refusing to give us the win 8.2 fix, thus win 10 and win 100 will not have the 8.2 fix out of spite by Bill + Melinda. They don't care if Greg + his MD wifes ever get a cure for Breast Cancer!

iApps MRI's of every Brain on this iMac... crunched with many iApps! 100% use of memory + brain will be used by the 4 MD Wives Coup D'Etat iApps for this 5K iMac + get a Nobel to share with the Good Wives!

The U.S. Department of Energy said on Friday it is spending $425 million to research extreme-scale computing and build two super-computers, which would be the world's fastest, for research into basic science as well as nuclear weapons. The DOE is awarding $325 million to build "Summit" for Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Tennessee and "Sierra" at the Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory in California. An additional $100 million will go to research into "extreme scale Supercomputing" technology as part of a program called FastForward2, the DOE said in a news release.

The supercomputers, made with components from IBM, Nvidia and Mellanox, will run five to seven times faster than the United States' current fastest computers. Summit and Sierra will operate at 150 petaflops and 100 petaflops, respectively, compared to the world's current top super-computer, the Tianhe-2 in China, which performs at 55 petaflops, Nvidia said in a separate news release. IBM built the first supercomputer to reach 1 petaflop, a precise measure of how fast computers calculate, in 2008, also for the Department of Energy.

Researchers worldwide will be able to apply for time to use the Summit computer. The National Nuclear Security Administration will use Sierra "to ensure the safety, security and effectiveness of the nation's nuclear deterrent without testing," Nvidia said. Santa Clara, California-based Nvidia is best-known for its high-end personal-computer graphics chips favored by gamers. In recent years it has developed more advanced versions of those chips suitable for parallel processing on supercomputers and in data centers. It has also been working with IBM to develop future chip offerings for high-end enterprise customers.

11-9-14 DNA was first isolated in the mid 1800s, but its true significance was not discovered until much later. As the field of molecular biology developed, science slowly discovered the incredible importance of DNA — DNA carries all our genetic information across the generations. It took decades to figure out what DNA looks like, but when even when Watson, Crick, and Franklin posited the double-helix, it was an indirect observation. We have never been able to actually see DNA until now.

The 1953 breakthrough describing the double-helix was confirmed using x-ray crystallography. This is a process in which a molecule is bombarded with x-rays which bounce off the atoms. By observing the patterns of the reflected x-rays, scientists can calculate the location of atoms in the molecule. The new research from Enzo di Fabrizio at the University of Genoa is different because it visualizes DNA directly with an electron microscope.

The team created a water repellent surface that caused liquid in samples to dry out very quickly and deposit suspended strands of DNA. The surface is made up of tiny micro-pillars that catch the DNA, holding it up where images can be taken. The results are pretty amazing — you can actually see the repeating spiral pattern of DNA.

This first round of images cannot capture individual double-helices. The electron microscope needs to output so much energy to take the pictures, that it blows single strands apart. What you're seeing here are so-called "DNA cords", bundles of six single strands wrapped around a central one.

The hope is that a more sensitive detector capable of capturing images at lower electron energies will allow the researchers to see single strands of DNA. The work could eventually allow scientists to closely study the way proteins and chemical agents interact with your DNA. via New Scientist

A $750,000, 50-foot turbine, jet-engine powerboat capable of producing more than 3,000 horsepower burnt to the waterline Thursday afternoon after bursting into flames gulfside off Lower Matecumbe Key, officials said. Six people on board -- including the boat's owner and operator, Statement Marine owner Todd Werner of St. Petersburg -- were rescued with no injuries by a passing good Samaritan, said Florida Powerboat Club president Stu Jones and a Coast Guard spokesman. The boat was en route to the Southernmost City as part of the annual Key West Powerboat

Poker Run to coincide with the 34th annual Key West World Championship Races, Jones said. Statement Marine was one of the Poker Run's sponsor boats, he added. The boat was still on fire as of 4:15 p.m. The blaze was described as too intense to extinguish, said Coast Guard spokesman Lt. Peter Bermont. Heavy black smoke and dark orange flames were being reported seen from multiple witnesses, officials said. "The Key Largo Fire Rescue arrived on scene just now," Bermont said at 4 p.m. "The FWC (Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission) is setting up a safety perimeter around the vessel as it is burning very intensely." The boat runs on diesel. It was unclear how many gallons of fuel were burning, but officials said they expected it to be several hundred gallons. "It burnt to a crisp," Jones said. How the fire started was unclear Thursday, but Jones described turbine powerboats as high-end performance boats that require a great deal of skill on behalf of the operator. They also produce a high amount of horsepower given their weight. In short, they take a pounding, especially in choppy water, he said. "They break a lot," Jones said. Many turbine boats use remanufactured helicopter jet engines, he added. "It was probably something with the engines," Jones said. "Turbines are extremely hot engines."

A fatal motor vehicle-pedestrian accident last Thursday has sparked discussion over pedestrian safety in New Haven. Last Thursday, an 81-year-old woman was killed crossing the intersection of Olive and Greene Streets in the Wooster Square neighborhood. The New Haven Independent reported on the incident, and commenters on the eventual article debated whether a lack of proper traffic safety regulations in the Wooster Square neighborhood influenced the accident. Commenters argued that there are inappropriate street designs, a lack of pedestrian protection initiatives and inadequate police enforcement in New Haven. Aaron Goode '04, a member of the Wooster Square Community Management Team, said that while the investigation into the driver's role is significant, he hopes the accident will also provoke discussion about pedestrian safety.

Yale... Enough alcohol to call it rape? By Nicole Ng and Vivian Wang

On March 22, 2013, two Yale undergraduates had sexual intercourse. The female student was intoxicated. The male student was not. Thirteen months later, on April 22, 2014, the female student filed a formal complaint with the University-Wide Committee on Sexual Misconduct, alleging that the sex had not been consensual. Throughout September and October, the UWC hired a fact-finder and held a hearing to determine whether the male student – the respondent – had violated the University's sexual misconduct policies. In its final report dated Oct. 31, the UWC stated that the respondent had not violated University sexual misconduct policy. The panel recommended that the respondent and complainant have no direct or indirect contact for the remainder of their time at Yale.

According to the timeline of UWC procedure, Yale College Dean Jonathan Holloway – the final decision maker in all cases where the complainant is an undergraduate – was supposed to announce his final decision by Tuesday. As of late Thursday evening, the complainant had not received the decision. Holloway declined to comment for this story on Thursday afternoon. Over the course of the investigation, dozens of pages of documents were compiled that detail both parties' version of the events. These documents, which the complainant provided to the News, include interviews, emails and text conversations. They also comprise the fact-finder's report and the UWC's final recommendation. The documents offer an inside look at UWC proceedings, which are normally confidential, and reveal what happens when a student files a formal complaint of sexual misconduct at Yale. They also highlight a process that has come under criticism as recently as this week for arbitrary decision-making and inconsistent procedures. The UWC dates to April 2011, when then-Provost Peter Salovey announced the body's formation shortly after the Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights announced an investigation into Yale's compliance with Title IX, the federal gender equality law. The documents reviewed by the News paint a picture of a thorough process that, in this case, weighed an abundance of often ambiguous evidence, including messages perhaps fully understood only by the parties themselves. At certain points, however, the process did not abide by its own guidelines, the documents show.

In her capacity as independent fact-finder for the case, supervisor at the Yale Child Study Center's Trauma Section Miriam Berkman LAW '82, who did not return request for comment, recorded the accounts of both the complainant and respondent, collected evidence and conducted interviews for a 43-page report. Among others, this document, dated Oct. 15, provides the basis for the narrative of this story. In an effort to protect the privacy of the students involved, the News has chosen to withhold the names of the complainant and the respondent, as well as details about the location of events. UWC Chair David Post and University Title IX Coordinator and Deputy Provost Stephanie Spangler did not return requests for comment. The News contacted the respondent by email to give him an opportunity to comment, but he did not reply. The University responded to a request by the News for comment with a written statement emailed by University Spokesman Tom Conroy. "The University is eager to advance open community discourse regarding its sexual misconduct procedures. That said, we will not provide details of specific cases, nor will we support the efforts of others to do so," Conroy wrote. "We believe that members of our community will hesitate to bring forward their complaints or participate in the process if they fear that their cases may be publicized and that confidential documents may be made public." Eden Ohayon '14, who also filed a formal complaint with the UWC last May, said Yale's sexual misconduct policies are superb on paper. However, she said, if the University does not abide by these policies in reality, complainants have the right to publicize their claims.

Ohayon added that the UWC did not resolve her complaint according to its own timeline. A process that was supposed to take 60 days took four months, she said. "Yale can't just hide behind this confidentiality clause that they make you enter into as a part of filing a formal complaint," Ohayon said.

THE NIGHT IN QUESTION: MARCH 22, 2013 The night of the alleged assault, the female student was drinking and playing games with friends in her suite when she received a text message from the would-be respondent. According to the accounts of both students, they had been involved in a brief yet exclusive romantic relationship the previous fall. At the time of the incident, they were not engaged in an ongoing romantic relationship. They had agreed to end all sexual contact just days earlier, during spring break. By both students' accounts, the male student still had strong feelings for the female student that were not reciprocated. At 7:18 p.m., the male student texted the female student, and a conversation ensued. The male student said he was alone in his room working. At 8:57 p.m., the female student texted the male student that she was "tipsy" and had started playing drinking games. By this point, she had moved to the suite of some other students in her entryway, according to cell phone screenshots obtained by the fact-finder.

The students continued to text as the female became increasingly intoxicated. At 9:45 p.m., she texted the male student explaining the drinking game she was playing, ending with, "I'm so hammered I can't even..." According to the complainant's account in the fact-finder's report, the text conversation was "insignificant chitchat" until the male student said in response, "Make sure to keep texting me though, you're clearly pretty trashed and I wanna make sure you're okay :)" Since the two had previously hooked up while intoxicated, this message set off an internal alarm, according to the complainant's account included in the fact-finder's report. She said she felt the conversation was headed down a familiar path – one repeated throughout the spring – that would end in a sexual encounter she no longer wanted. Anticipating that she would become more intoxicated, the complainant said she sent the messages to protect herself against the possibility of that outcome.

"Don't let me try to seduce you though," she texted him, followed by a second text: "Because that is a distinct possibility." TEXT MESSAGES: MARCH 22, 2013 However, the respondent said he did not interpret those texts in the same way. According to his account in the fact-finder's report, the messages came as a surprise to him, in light of their agreement earlier in the month to simply remain friends. In her next text, the female student alleged, she continued to express that she did not want to have sex. "I mean... sex is awesome, and I might try to get it from you. But I shouldn't. I don't think," she wrote. After the male student responded that he was interested, adding that sex would not be a "big deal," the female student said she did not immediately respond for several minutes. This was another attempt to avoid a sexual encounter, she said in the fact-finder's report. Still, according to the fact-finder, the male student interpreted the female student's texts as "ambivalence," not an explicit refusal of a sexual encounter.

Several minutes after receiving no answer, the male student sent a second text saying his roommates were not present and his roommate's bed was "looking rather comfy." The female student responded, "None of my roommates are here and I'm too hammered to make it to [your dorm]. Is this a bad idea..." In a June 3 written response to the formal complaint that he had received notice of five days earlier, the male student said it seemed like the female student had changed her mind about just being friends. However, the fact-finder reported that he sensed "uncertainty" and "ambivalence" in the female student's texts, and decided to have a face-to-face conversation to resolve the situation. He told the fact-finder that this conversation was the reason he went to her room — not necessarily to have sex. "Nope," he responded to the female student's previous text, "cause I'm gonna wear your favorite outfit:) I'm on my way." The complainant then responded, "Goto [sic] my room I'll be there soon." The male student said he interpreted her message as an invitation. Yet, the female student said the text did not indicate consent. Rather, she said she thought he would persist until she acquiesced. In a relationship she characterized as "highly emotional and volatile," the male student would often respond to a refusal with "screaming, crying and other histrionics that she found overwhelming," she said. According to her account in the fact-finder's report, she was too intoxicated to have the cognitive or emotional ability to find another solution and simply capitulated. When the female student returned to her suite, the male student was waiting for her. According to the male student's written response, when the female student entered the room, "little more than 'Hello' was said before she grabbed [him], kissed [him] and [they] began to have sex." He claimed they each undressed themselves. They had sex twice that night, he said, and once more in the morning. Each time, the respondent said, the complainant was "an enthusiastic participant." The male student said that though he knew she had been drinking, he had no idea how much alcohol she had consumed and did not know she was significantly impaired. He said that after their second sexual encounter that night, the complainant said she was sober. According to the fact-finder's report, the female student said she remembers nothing more than stumbling back to her room and having sexual intercourse once with the male student. The next morning, she said, she woke up feeling terrible that she had become so inebriated and had sex despite not wanting to. She said she immediately blamed herself, lying in bed silently crying with her back turned to the male student. When he initiated sex that morning, the female student said she did not resist because she felt refusal would be too emotionally exhausting. When she reread her texts that morning, she said she did not remember sending most of them. She could not recall exactly how much she had had to drink that evening. She later estimated that she had at least one drink of vodka and three beers. THE IMMEDIATE AFTERMATH: SPRING 2013

While the complainant said she was upset with the events of March 22, she did not initially consider the encounter to be an instance of sexual misconduct. A few days later, however, the complainant was surprised when her friends said the respondent's actions constituted rape because her level of intoxication rendered her unable to give consent. On March 28, 2013, the female student sent the male student an email warning him to never engage in sexual activity with anyone as drunk as she had been that evening because that could constitute sexual misconduct. She emphasized, however, that she was simply looking out for him and did not plan to take any disciplinary action. Disturbed by the message, the male student forwarded the email to his residential college dean, who advised him to meet with the female student to discuss the situation. In an interview with the News, the complainant said the dean never contacted her after receiving the forwarded email.

The female student said she reluctantly met with the male student over lunch. According to her account in the fact-finder's report, she told him that the evening of March 22 had been different from their previous casual sexual interactions because he had ignored her decision in early March to end all sexual contact. The male student, however, told the fact-finder that during this meeting, the female student expressed that she was not hurt, and that their encounter had been consensual. The complainant said she does not remember saying anything to that effect. For the remainder of the semester, the two had limited contact. On May 27, 2013, the male student sent the female student an unsolicited email, included in the fact-finder's report, that detailed how he thought she had changed over the past year. A few hours later, the female student responded angrily, writing that he had sexually pressured and manipulated her during their relationship – views she would later express to Berkman during the fact-finding process. She described that in the two months since March 22, her emotional reaction to the male student's presence had only escalated, stating that the mere sight of him could make her want to cry or vomit. In her email, the female student also directly accused the male student of sexual misconduct during the night in question for the first time. "I can't figure out quite where to start, so let's just start with objective fact: you raped me," she wrote. "You are a rapist."

ONE YEAR LATER: COMPLAINT FILED On April 17, 2014, the complainant visited campus for the first time since taking the 2013-14 school year off. Once she realized that she would see the male student around campus when she returned full-time in the fall, she visited the Sexual Harassment and Assault Response Education center she told the News. Over the course of the next few days, the female student met with a SHARE counselor and Pamela Schirmeister, the Title IX coordinator for Yale College at the time. She decided to file a formal complaint.

Faculty, students respond to high admin salaries By Jed Finley and Finnegan Schick At $864,319, the average pay package given by the University to 10 of Yale's top administrators has sparked conversation on campus. The salaries of these administrators, including the University president, vice presidents and provost, were made public through Yale's Form 990, which is filed with the Internal Revenue Service annually as part of the University's tax exempt status. Linda Lorimer, the vice president for global and strategic initiatives, and Dorothy Robinson, the University's general counsel, took home $1,748,767 and $1,666,175 in 2012, respectively — figures higher than the average as both administrators received supplemental retirement packages. While these were the salaries that attracted the most attention, several students and faculty interviewed expressed criticism on the size of supplemental compensation packages for multiple high-level administrators. Four out of nine faculty interviewed said that while they praise Lorimer and Robinson for their hard work, the average pay for administrators suggests a shift toward corporatization at Yale.

“The problem is not whether, in the abstract, [Lorimer] deserves such a handout, but rather its discrepancy with academic salaries. And that signals the increasing shift at Yale and most other universities toward corporate models of management,” theater studies professor Murray Briggs said. According to an Association of American University Presses report on Yale and institutions comparable to it, the average salary for a Yale professor in 2013-14 was $192,200, which is 7.8 percent lower than Harvard's for the same year. The average salary for a Yale associate professor is $118,300, while for an assistant professor it is $95,900. Sociology professor Ronald Eyerman said he thinks the pay packages had dangerous implications for the future of education. “I'm embarrassed to think of education as an ‘industry’ and a university as a 'corporation'," said sociology professor Ronald Eyerman. Branford Master Elizabeth Bradley, meanwhile, said that the University needs to at least be in the "mid-range" of other competing universities and employers to attract and retain the top talent.

Speaking of Lorimer and Robinson, Bradley noted that "both women have made enormous contributions to Yale over three decades, and seeing this in the context of their whole careers and gifts to Yale would be important." Penelope Laurans, a special assistant to the University president and the master of Jonathan Edwards College, said Lorimer and Robinson devoted themselves "heart and soul, round the clock," to the toughest leadership assignments. Yale is not the only University to provide its administrators with high salaries. Further, School of Management Professor Jeffrey Sonnenfeld said he was amazed at how administrators at other elite schools have used their positions to acquire wealth. Computer science professor David Gelernter said he understands why Yale needs to pay "absurd" salaries to retain the talent necessary to run the University. Gelernter added that in an ideal world faculty would be paid more, but that most of them are passionate about what they do and loyal to the institution regardless.

"Yale has been good to me, from the very start. I'm grateful and I love this place. I wish they paid a living wage – but you can't have everything," Gelernter said. School of Public Health Dean Paul Cleary said Yale does not offer supplemental compensation to its administrators on an annual basis. Instead, additional compensation is given as an incentivizing tool for the most talented administrators to stay at Yale, he added, and as supplemental retirement benefits – as was the case with Lorimer and Robinson. "Usually, if you separate it out, their compensation is not oversized, they're not getting this on an annualized basis – this was a lump sum," Sonnenfeld said. Cleary added salary levels were determined after careful analyses of comparable salaries at other institutions. Four out of eight students interviewed said they are displeased with how Yale currently allocates funds, but also were not overtly critical of the pay packages given to Lorimer and Robinson. Wendell Adjety '18 said Yale should relocate some of its funds toward professors and away from administrators. He added that he would like to see professors in the humanities and social sciences paid more competitively.

Lina Xing '17 also said she thinks the discrepancies between administration and faculty salaries and pay packages at Yale should not be so large. But Xing added it makes sense for administrators with greater responsibility to receive a higher pay. The pay packages of 22 Yale faculty and administrators were listed in Yale's Form 990, which was filed with the Internal Revenue Service in 2012.

11-6-14 For 20 years, scientists have known of a gene involved in neural tube defects (such as spina bifida), but until now it was not known exactly what causes this gene to malfunction during diabetic pregnancies.

11-6-14 WW III A neural tube is the body's first step in assembling the spinal cord and the brain, which takes place within the first two to four weeks of gestation. Since the early 1990's, scientists have known that the gene Pax3 is required for closure of the neural tube.

11-6-14 WW III Diabetic women who become pregnant run a greater than average risk that their baby, while the tube is folding shut, will develop anencephaly, a fatal disorder, or spina bifida, which can lead to motor impairment and other disabilities. For over two decades Dr. Loeken has focused her research on discovering how and why the malfunction of Pax3 can occur in diabetic women when they are pregnant.

11-5-14 Coal is Headline News for China Today. It's related to "Burn Unit" as Electric Windmill Ford Focus would have made Coal Mining Out of Date in 1981. 777 Trillion cans of H @ -254 C would have been made in China and exported by Today! Laser Guided + Dash Cam cars would have come out with the 1981 Model Electric Windmill Ford Focus! Cops pulling you over to write a ticket would have been out of date to new Dash Cam technology.

11-5-14 80K in WW III were burned to death in a fiery Car Crash for $777 Trillion in BP Oil Revenues. I think Bill + Marcue got some kick back from BP Oil or just the 1984 II Numb Nuts Dictators gov perks like MD's got $1 Trillion in Medicare in 2014 to not report on "Burn Units" causalities of WW III to come up with the money. 11-5-14 Here's What Experts Really Think About Google's Glasses, Google's Social Vision looking at 800 YouTube videos of fiery Cop Car Crashes...

11-5-14 Here's What Experts Really Think About Google's Glasses, the laser guidance gives you a "Heads UP!" one example is the mirror... Conventional mirrors reflect light by interacting with the electrical component of electromagnetic radiation. Beyond reversing the image, they also reverse light's electrical field. This presents a problem at the mirror's surface, where the opposing frequencies cancel each other out. For scientists, this means that things like quantum dots are unable to interact with light at the surface.

Quantum dots are unable to interact with light at the surface of a conventional mirror! Wow Now use your brain to "See" wants going on inside a nearby star that will burn its H for the next 4 trillion years!

11-5-14 1984 II HQ! 55" monitors is what I vision is at 1984 II HQ!

11-5-14 1984 II "Google's Half-Finished Attempt to Take Over the Living Room" ...the battered womens shelter in every city and town in the USA. WW III Veterans top Brass are 4 MD Wives Coup D'Etat. They not Google will end "Domestic Violence" and Murders by "OJ" + Robert Kennedy Jr. killing of Mary in the Kennedy Barn, as Mary Kennedy didn't make the murdered wives statistics. But in reality or the "Real World" as Yale Students call it. MIT Technology Review spent decades on "Drones" as 19K women were murdered MIT drones killed 10K women + kids in Syria. After the Coup MIT Technology Review will be limited to "Saving Her Life!"

11-4-14 Analysis: $12 million spent at the Yale Casino by Yale Medical School Professors!

11-4-14 Fundamental particles of the universe, MD's!

11-4-14 Fundamental particles of our Social Universe, 1984 II 800 fiery Cop Car Crashes, 801 soon!

11-4-14 Fundamental particles of the universe that physicists have identified—electrons, neutrinos, quarks, and so on—are the "letters" of all matter. Just like their linguistic counterparts, they appear to have no further internal substructure.

11-4-14 Fundamental particles of our Social Universe, 1984 II. Dictators + Doctors, today's class will be on Casino Owners + Upper Middle class Gamblers, what is "Won + Lost" does not seem to matter. This upmost important particle of our Social Universe seems to have no "Matter" like the new Movie "The Theory of Everything." They can't play this "Card" until we know how "Gravity" is generated.

11-4-14 Fundamental particles... Gravity appears to have no further internal substructure... but everyone in the world knows some internal substructure MUST generate Gravity!

11-4-14 Fundamental particles... In our Social Universe, 1984 II Top Brass seem to have no sense to the Gravity of the Universe!

11-4-14 Fundamental particles... String theory proclaims otherwise. According to string theory, if we could examine these particles with even greater precision—a precision many orders of magnitude beyond our present technological capacity—we would find that each is not point like but instead consists of a tiny, one-dimensional loop. Like an infinitely thin rubber band, each particle contains a vibrating, oscillating, dancing filament that physicists have named a string.

11-4-14 Fundamental particles in the Naming of something futuristic is getting the Name right! String should be changed to CPU.

11-4-14 Fundamental particles... The Grand Design is a popular-science book written by physicists Stephen Hawking and Leonard Mlodinow and published by Bantam Books in 2010. It argues that invoking God is not necessary to explain the origins of the universe, and that the Big Bang is a consequence of the laws of physics alone. [1] In response to criticism, Hawking has said; "One can't prove that God doesn't exist, but science makes God unnecessary... Hawking said the mechanism behind the origin of the universe was becoming so well known that God was no longer necessary.

11-4-14 Fundamental particles... Hawking said God is no longer necessary! Social Universe, 1984 II Numb Nuts Dictators tossed gasoline bombs at Cop Cars + families in their SUV's in LA, Paris, Rome, Moscow. God is no longer "God" to our 1984 II Numb Nuts Dictators but to Women at Yale Medical School who have swirled someone's gray matter between their index finger + thumb believe God is Necessary. 4 MD Wives Coup when successful will use the Pentagon Building for a Medical School... 1,001 Nobels in Medicine a Year will convert atheist to believers in God. 11-4-14 Yale medical school professors named by the NY Times and below in this web-fiddle-faddled, wasted all these millions, $512 + $535. No "Cardiac Arrest Novel" Hemingway House Writers Classes for Medical School Professors! Yale Med School professors and MD didn't write one iApp for MacBook Air + Pro to find a Rx cure for Tropical Medicine and Hygiene... like Key West City Marinas, City of Key West Marina employees make almost as much as a Yale MD, gov. perks for suppressing the Electric Windmill Ford Escort and the White House MD overlooks no public Outdoor Shower in Key West.

11-4-14 Why... because the NIH has $777 Trillion in kickbacks and gov. perks for Yale Doctors not to complain about the cops in the burn units, and the other 1 million days in a hospital statistics from no laser guided electric winmill Ford Escorts.

10-31-14 In the eye of the beholder... STD's. Tim Cook calling your cell a pop up will tell you what STD's Tim Cook has! And that he has had sex with 800 different men...

11-4-14 In the days following Tim Cook's statement that he was "proud to be gay," Apple's chief executive has been commended for his openness in a variety of online opinions, but also needled by a pestilent swarm of haters, ranging from Twitter trolls to Russian politicians and businessmen. Apple investors don't seem to care.

10-31-14 In the eye of the beholder... Yale Students by the time I visit Yale Med School for Body Work at 67 will have an iApp for their iPhone 6 Plus that lets the Yale student know if the caller has Anus Cancer, Anus STD's, etc.

11-3-14 Bill Gates is keynote speaker at American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene conference in New Orleans. Thousands of scientists from around the world jammed into a New Orleans hotel ballroom to hear him.

11-3-14 WHO told Bill Gates the same thing... we need a coup that confiscates $777 Trillion from Saudi Arabia. This is the only way the 155 Story Yale Paris - NYC Medical Schools on an Eiffel tower structure will be paid for! The leader of the World Health Organization criticized the drug industry on Monday, saying that the drive for profit was one reason no cure had yet been found for Ebola + Breast Cancer!

11-3-14 iApps for MacBook Air + Pro will find a Rx cure for Tropical Medicine and Hygiene and they will be pre-loaded on all Apple devices. Bill Gates will be droned in gasoline at the War Crimes Trials.

11-3-14 Take that, Osama Bin Laden! $777 Trillion in $4 gas financed the 17 Terrorists from Saudi Arabia, they got this much money from the Pentagon's suppression of the Electric Windmill Car!

11-3-14 More than 13 years after the 9/11 terrorist attacks, a resurrected World Trade Center - bigger and better than ever - reopened for business Monday.

11-3-14 All UN Nations knew about the suppression of the Electric Windmill Car so the UN will be torn down and a 155 Story "Yale NYC Medical School" will be built on an Eiffel Tower Structure were the UN could have prevented 9-11 but greed of $777 Trillion from Oil Revenues won her heart.

11-3-14 Follow up story from yesterdays web here on Electric Windmill Cars would all have 52K lasers for guidance. "China's new laser shoots down drones" by Jose Pagliery CNN Money.
