Others! Petty officer found guilty of assault... BY ADAM LINHARDT Citizen Staff alinhardt@keysnews.com A Coast Guard crewman accused of assaulting a vacationing couple was found guilty Thursday during a court martial held at the state courthouse in Key West. Petty Officer Michael G.
Gold, 40, was found guilty of assault on the husband, and guilty of drunk and disorderly conduct stemming from an incident that occurred outside a Key West bar on Nov. 28, 2013. He was acquitted of assault against the woman. Gold had also been accused of abusive sexual contact against the woman, but that charge was dropped just prior to trial.
Cmdr. Patrick Flynn -- the senior officer sitting as military judge -- sentenced Gold, but the sentencing information was not available as of press time. Gold has been in the Coast Guard for about 10 years. According to a Key West Police arrest report, Gold and couple Bruce and Donna Cossey of Leesburg got into an altercation at a hot dog stand on the 200 block of Duval Street at 2:32 a.m. Donna Cossey, 42, accused Gold of grabbing her breasts. Her husband, Bruce Cossey, 63, walked up and before he could say anything, Gold hit him in the face.
