MD Wives Coup D'Etat Review: Stuyvesant Town-Peter Cooper Village, the largest apartment complex in Manhattan, is expected to be sold for more than $5.3 billion, an agreement that will preserve nearly half the 11,232-unit complex for middle-class families, according to officials involved in the negotiations. The sale, to the Blackstone Group, a Wall Street investment firm and one of the country's largest landlords, includes an unusual regulatory agreement with the administration of Mayor Bill de Blasio that would ensure that a block of 5,000 apartments would be affordable for the next 20 years for families of teachers, construction workers, firefighters and others who have traditionally made their homes at Stuyvesant Town.

10-20-2015 Nightly News From Key West with Greg + Wives... 4 MD Wives Coup D'Etat Review: NEW YORK — A successful dermatologist who was found unconscious in the entry of a Manhattan building after a night of partying died of acute cocaine and alcohol intoxication, the medical examiner's office said Monday. The Oct. 4 death of Kiersten Cerveney, a 38-year-old doctor from Long Island with a husband and three children, was ruled an accident, according to Julie Bolcer, a spokeswoman for the medical examiner. The finding of an overdose confirmed what police had suspected all along. Authorities believed Cerveney had been snorting cocaine all night as she shared drinks with a television and movie producer at a Lower East Side nightspot. Detectives said Cerveney eventually rode back to a Chelsea apartment building with the producer, a Facebook friend of Cerveney's identified by police as Marc Henry Johnson. The two pulled up at the modest five-story walk-up around 4:30 a.m. Four hours later, surveillance video showed Johnson and another man carrying Cerveny down the stairs to the building's entryway. Johnson called 911 and stayed with Cerveny until EMTs arrived, then left. When police officers showed up, Cerveny was in the lobby, unconscious and unresponsive. She was pronounced dead at a nearby hospital. Detectives questioned Johnson but he was not charged with a crime. Johnson is the producer of "The Deuce," an HBO pilot starring James Franco that focuses on the rise of the porn industry in New York in the 1970s and '80s. Neither Johnson nor his attorney responded to requests for comment. Cerveny's achievements included winning the 1995 America's Junior Miss competition as a teenager from Blackwood, New Jersey. The prize was a $30,000 scholarship she used to attend Duke University. After graduating, she earned her medical degree from Tulane.

MD Wives Coup D'Etat Review: Wal-Mart, the world's largest retailer by revenue, reportedly paid millions of dollars as bribes in return for regulatory clearances in India. According to a report by the Wall Street Journal (WSJ) on Oct. 19, the American retailer paid bribes ranging from $5 to $200 to local officials in India to help clear goods through customs or for securing real estate permits. "The vast majority of the suspicious payments were less than US$200, and some were as low as US$5, the people said, but when added together they totaled millions of dollars," the WSJ reported. It is still unclear when these bribes were paid to Indian authorities. The details have emerged during an ongoing US federal probe into allegations of corruptions at Wal-Mart stores in key markets. The probe began in December 2012 after the New York Times reported that the retailer paid $24 million in alleged bribes in Mexico. The investigation was later expanded to other emerging countries including China, India and Brazil.
