WHAT POWERS THE SUN?

Inside stars like the sun, the extreme temperature rips atoms into their components: protons, neutrons and electrons. Under normal conditions, the mutual repulsion of individual protons ought to force them apart. Quantum-tunneling effects in the sun allow hot, high-speed protons to fuse into helium nuclei. This fusion reaction drives the sun's radiance.

STAGES OF PROTON-PROTON FUSION

1. Two protons fuse. Usually the pair breaks apart again, but once in a while one proton is transmuted into a neutron. The resulting proton-neutron pair is deuterium, a type of hydrogen. Also, a positron and a neutrino are emitted. When the positron encounters its antiparticle (an electron), the pair annihilates to form a gamma ray.
2. Another proton collides with the deuterium, forming a helium-3 nucleus (two protons and a neutron) plus a gamma ray. Gamma rays eventually work their way up from the core of the sun and out into space in the form of sunlight.
3. Two helium-3 nuclei collide.
4. A helium-4 nucleus is created, plus two extra protons.

Putin says Trump is 'absolute leader' in US presidential race

12-17-2015 Star of Christmas... Putin predicted that Russia would have 0.7 percent growth in 2016, 1.9 percent growth in 2017, and 2.4 percent growth in 2018. In a personal moment, Putin was asked about the identity of his daughters, after a series of investigations in the Russian press revealed a woman named Katerina Tikhonova had attained a prominent position overseeing millions of dollars in investment at a high-tech business incubator at Moscow State University. "They don't engage in business and they don't engage in politics," Putin said, declining to answer the question. "They are never going to get involved in that."
