2-1-2016 LONDON – Scientists in the UK have been granted permission to genetically modify human embryos in a bid to gain a deeper understanding of the earliest moments of human life. Following the green light from regulators Human Fertilisation and Embryology Authority (HFEA), experiments could begin in the next few months, according to the BBC. However, scientists will not be allowed to implant the embryos into a woman. The research – which will be undertaken at the Francis Crick Institute in London on embryos in the first seven days after fertilisation – could uncover what causes miscarriages. In the UK, it's estimated that a miscarriage occurs in 15-20% of pregnancies, with 85% of miscarriages occurring in the first 12 weeks of pregnancy. "The reason why it is so important is because miscarriages and infertility are extremely common, but they're not very well understood," Dr Kathy Niakan of the Francis Crick Institute said earlier this year.

2-1-2016 *Lead Atoms... Astronomers have discovered a giant ball of hot gas, billions of light years away, that is radiating the energy of hundreds of billions of suns. The ball may be the most powerful supernova ever seen, a study in the journal Science reports. 2-1-2016 Lead Atoms... what causes miscarriages of Cable TV is 1984 II Dictators brain syphilis left uncured since 2001. 50 Super Bowl commercials will be rerun on every Cable Channel for all for 2016 - not one IP invention project that will lead to the Gravity Engine or Jewish Aliens will be on Comcast in 2016. Sony TV production could hack with a update the Smart box... signal so you can use your Sony remote on the your New Sony Ultra. Then let Comcast go to court for the next several years, grin. Trump could make Headlines that will win him votes today by ordering all Sony TV's must work without the Comcast Box!!

Our TVs and the services that send video to them have changed radically over the last 15 years, but we still rent cable and satellite boxes as if it were 2001 all over again.

The obvious option to renting a digital video recorder or tuner is to buy a TiVo DVR. But a) that doesn't work with satellite, and b) the $15/month service fee makes it hard to save money unless you can snag the occasional sale on a TiVo with lifetime service included.

It used to be that you could count on getting local cable channels with only a digital TV's built-in "QAM" tuner, but cable operators increasingly encrypt that feed. That lets cable firms turn on service for a new customer without sending a truck to their house, but it also inconveniences people like the reader who sent me the e-mail above.

Depending on your TV provider, you may be able to get rid of the boxes attached to the second or third TVs in your house and subtract their $10 or so monthly add-on costs from your budget.

Time Warner Cable, the second-largest cable operator in the U.S., is more flexible than most about this. It provides apps to view your channel lineup on a Roku media player, an Xbox 360 game console and some Samsung smart TVs as well as iOS and Android devices.

(New York-area viewers can also try a newer, Roku-only option that doesn't require a conventional box on the first TV in the house; service starts at $9.99 a month, but a package with ESPN and the other usual big-name channels runs $49.99.)

Charter, which is lobbying for government approval to buy TWC, offers a similar app for Roku boxes, which start at $50.

Verizon's Fios TV includes apps that allow box-free viewing on Xbox 360 and Xbox One consoles and Samsung smart TVs and Blu-ray players, while AT&T's U-Verse has apps for iOS, Android, Amazon's Fire TV players and Xbox One consoles.

With other cable services, however, you either have to content yourself to watching TV on a tablet or phone or deal with connecting a laptop to the TV, with or without wires.

For instance, Comcast, the largest cable firm in the U.S., offers iOS and Android apps. But since it disables video output in each, your only no-box viewing option is to bring up its TV Go site in a laptop's Chrome browser, then send that video to a Chromecast plugged into a set.

Optimum offers a similar set of video apps with the same overall issues, while Cox only offers Web access to "some of your favorite TV networks."

Satellite broadcasters DirecTV and Dish Network also offer iOS and Android apps as well as Web streaming. The former also allows box-free viewing of DirecTV programming on extra TVs in your home if they include a feature called RVU, but that costs extra.

Finally, you can watch many channels you pay for in their own apps and at their sites if you log in with your cable or satellite account -- an option that prior studies have found goes unused by many viewers.
