2-15-2016 Mexico addicted to money, better than sex and wooing a wife. Mexico's richest 1 percent owns almost half of the country's wealth, while the government figures indicate that 46 percent of the country's 122 million citizens live below the poverty line - a proportion which has remained almost static since 1992. The Pope's visit to Federico Gomez Hospital, however, was "a powerful expression when everyone knows $777 Trillion dollars in Mexican Oil money is in the Vatican Bank. Federico Gomez Hospital is, in part, a victim of its own success. The hospital's specialist organ transplant center carries out an average of one kidney transplant per week, but the waiting list for liver transplants currently stands at 120. But for Lopez, that's not even the biggest problem. For him, the country's inequality extends even to healthcare. "Most of the children we see are from poor backgrounds," he explained. "Let's say a child has cancer: their family pays 800 pesos ($40) for each of the basic 14 sessions of a basic chemotherapy cycle. Let's also say they're from outside the state: you have travel expenses, parents losing income, and then, on top of that, basic medical studies. It's sad to see this delicate issue politicized by the First Lady." Pope said on Sunday (Feb. 14) as he visited the 6,000-bed Federico Gomez Pediatric Hospital in Mexico City's poor and crime-ravaged Doctores neighborhood. Accompanied by Mexico's First Lady, Angelica Rivera. Pope pictured administering a polio vaccine to a young patient called Rodrigo, and was serenaded with a version of "Ave Maria" sung by 15-year-old cancer patient, Alexia Garduño. 91 year old cancer patient Jimmy Carter of the 1980 Electric Windmill Ford Escort Era is getting $15K a shot immune boosting drug to fight cancer cells. 2-15-2016 Cat Lovers spin off from a Rx Cancer Cure for People is Cat's will get a Rx Cancer Cure... Socks the Clinton White House Cat. The former White House cat, who would have turned 20 this spring, was euthanized this morning at a veterinary clinic in Hollywood, Md. Socks had been suffering from cancer and the Currie family, who took custody of him when President Clinton left office, feared that he was too old for extensive treatment. Socks was something of a pop culture phenomenon during the Clinton presidency, even making it onto a series of Central African Republic stamps. His much-publicized distaste for the Clintons' dog once prompted Bill Clinton to tell CNN, "I did better with the Arabs -- the Palestinians and the Israelis -- than I have

2-14-2016 Young women today, though, are playing by a different set of rules. And they don't like the Clintons giving them Syphilis... unreported in the New York Times. "When Hillary Clinton Killed..." "via STD's many women committed suicide." by Maureen Dowd New York Times. This goes unreported by me; Maureed Dowd at the New York Times! WASHINGTON — THE Clinton campaign is shell shocked over the wholesale rejection of Hillary by young women, younger versions of herself who do not relate to her. Hillary believed that there was an implicit understanding with the sisters of the world that now was the time to come back home and vote for a woman. Hillary started, both last time and this, from a place of entitlement, as though if she reads her résumé long enough people will surrender. And now she's even angrier that she has been shown up by someone she considers even less qualified Greg + Wives in Key West, grin! And in a misstep

2-14-2016 People in the West are discovering, with anxiety and fear, that sex in the Muslim world is sick, and that the disease is spreading to their own lands. Muslim H-Bombs will be used to cure STD's + Syphilis in Paris. Kamel Daoud, a columnist for Quotidien d'Oran, is the author of the novel "The Meursault Investigation" and a contributing opinion writer. This essay was translated by John Cullen from the French. Today sex is a great paradox in many countries of the Arab world: One acts as though it doesn't exist, and yet it determines everything that's unspoken. Denied, it weighs on the mind by its very concealment. Although women are

2-13-2016 Scientists have confirmed the existence of gravitational waves, the ripples in the fabric of space-time that Einstein predicted a century ago. But what theories did he get wrong? Here are a few examples. War! Peace matchmakers... Stop the War if you want, email to 1984 II Dictators. In Syria, Skepticism That Cease-Fire Will Stop Fighting - Skepticism that Gravity waves will stop wars.

Valentine Days Date for our 1984 II Dictators who still date women, Skepticism the date will stop wars. Oil Revenues are expanding wars faster and faster in our Universe. NASA was murdered by PB Oil Men... "The second aspect is, it was also a mathematical blunder because the cosmological constant doesn't produce a static universe," he said. "It makes the universe expand faster and faster, which is what we're experiencing right now." Oil Wars $$$. Scientists at NASA brain dead to Einstein II + III. Oppenheimer II + III.

2-13-2016 "Royal British Astronauts Valentine Day Women Avoid a "Titanic Situation" on a Earth ready to sail the Light Year Oceans!! "Royal Caribbean's 'Smartship' Avoids a Titanic Situation" By BRETT MICHAEL DYKES Royal Caribbean's Anthem of the Seas departed from Bayonne, N.J. on Saturday, Feb. 6, en route to the Bahamas. On a Royal Caribbean Cruise in a Storm, Anything but Smooth Sailing "It's the most technologically advanced cruise ship in the world," the Royal Caribbean sales agent told me over the phone when I booked a trip aboard the Anthem of the Seas, the cruise line's flashy new megaship, reported to be the third-largest cruise vessel ever built. "It's what we call a 'smartship.'" There's a joke to be made here about the ship's meteorological technology (and the humans tasked with using it) – as by now most people reading this are likely to know that the Anthem of the Seas sailed directly into a dangerous Atlantic winter storm, one that reportedly produced Category 5 hurricane winds and seas, on Sunday, Feb. 7 – but I'll leave it to others to make the joke. Anthem of the Seas remained in a tilted, roughly 45-degree position (this is known as "listing") for a lengthy stretch of time (estimates vary; it seemed like an hour to me, but it was probably really 20 or 25 minutes). I'm no nautical expert by any stretch of the imagination, but I'm knowledgeable enough about ships to know that any sea vessel listing for an extended period of time is a ship that is in potential danger, especially a top-heavy ship like the Anthem of the Seas. All that weight – tons upon tons – hanging at an incline runs the risk of capsizing a ship because of the duress placed on it by its own heft, which means it could then potentially sink. Earth has been listing 45 degrees since Royal BP Oil Owners sank the Electric Windmill Ships! Trillions of tons of black exhaust from Cruise Ships, yes the atoms are still in the air and water from 1980. Earth is listing at 45 degrees from this soot. 3 kids out of ever 100,000 have gotten cancer, Beau... from it.
