2-19-2016 The strangers slept no more than a dozen steps apart in a housing project in the South Bronx — she on a cot pushed up against the wall in the living room of her ailing mother's apartment, and he in a narrow, airless hallway of the building, on the threshold of his family's door. She worried he had been locked out of his apartment, and one day last month told her mother she wanted to offer him some soup. But the mother, mindful of the danger that faces residents in the stairwells and expansive courtyards of the Mott Haven Houses, warned her it was the kind of encounter that could get her killed. A few days later, the man, Angel Feliz-Volquez, 26, hearing her in the fifth-floor hallway, burst from his apartment with a 20-inch machete and repeatedly struck the younger woman, Carmen Torres-Gonzalez, 59. He sliced her neck, face, shoulder and forearm, the back of her head and both her hands, severing one, and then stood over her, according to a police report.

A head-on collision between a passenger bus and a truck in central Ghana killed at least 61 people in the deadliest road accident in recent memory in the country, officials and witnesses said Thursday. The accident occurred Wednesday night in the town of Kintampo, more than 250 miles north of the capital, Accra, said Christopher Tawiah, a regional police spokesman. On Twitter, President John Dramani Mahama expressed condolences to the families of the victims. Officials are investigating the crash. Ghana's National Road Safety Commission reported that more than 1,600 people were killed in road accidents last year.

"Iron Ore Giant Vale Begins Tests at Its Largest Mine" The Brazilian company Vale, the world's biggest iron ore producer, said on Wednesday that it had begun testing equipment at its largest mine, in the Brazilian Amazon. Tests began with a nearly six-mile-long conveyor belt that takes iron ore from the mine's open-cut pit to a processing facility, said Jamil Sebe, project director for the company's Amazon iron assets. The mine has a planned capacity to produce 90 million metric tons of high-grade ore a year.*
