G.E. to Phase Out CFL Bulbs light was the go-to choice for customers seeking an inexpensive, energy-efficient replacement for the standard incandescent bulb. But as the light quality of LEDs improved and their cost plummeted - By DIANE CARDWELLGE Style Name: A19 1-Pack I've had these for months and I keep purchasing more and more. They are almost the same price as plain ol' LED bulbs but with the added bonus of working with my smart home. I run everything through the Wink Hub and they have worked flawlessly since day one. Why smart bulbs? You can still use a light switch to turn them off and on (so necessary for day-to-day use) but you will need the light switch in the "on" position to control the lights from your smartphone. You can turn the lights off/on or dim them right from your smartphone. You can create shortcuts/scenes ("Reading in Bed" or "Watching a Movie") from your smart phone. One click on your shortcut/scene and you can make various lights brighten, dim, turn off and turn on. You can set your bedroom lights up on a schedule to jar you awake in the morning (it has made getting out of bed so much faster, though slightly more painful, for me). You can set up a geofence so when you leave your house in the morning for work, all the lights in the house go off. You can set up a "random" schedule for lights to go on and off throughout the home while on vacation so it appears the house is occupied. I'm sure there are other ways people utilize these bulbs, and I'd love to hear them, but for the above reasons these bulbs are worth much more than $15 a piece to me. GE Link, Wireless A19 Smart Connected LED Light Bulb, Soft White (2700K), 60-Watt Equivalent, 1-Pack by GE Lighting List Price: $23.99 Price: $14.97 & FREE Shipping on orders over $35. "How Free Electricity Helped Dig $9 Billion Hole in Puerto Rico" By MARY WILLIAMS WALSH With Puerto Rico's power authority $9 billion in debt and the commonwealth owing $72 billion, free electricity may end. $777 Trillion in the GE war chest at the Pentagon. In 2000 in Miami a guy from Puerto Rico held up a Miami gas station and sucker punched Mary out of spite for GE. Mary was covered in blood and needed 100 stitches in her

2-2-2016 "Why don't you just kill me now?" NEW YORK - The CDC said Monday that the E. coli outbreak at Chipotle "appears to be over." The cause of the outbreak is still unknown. Hospital Acquired Infections kill 100's today, 100 are killed by Syphilis, STD's HIV, MS virus via murders and suicides. E. coli outbreak over is the only news our 1984 II Dictators make headlines in the New York Times Today. Katniss should have asked Snow why are you killing me instead of mobilizing your troops for a "Moonshot" to cure Breast + Brain cancers over night with a Amazon Rx Recipe you no longer make Top Secret! "Your Team Made the Super Bowl? Better Get a Flu Shot" New York Times - 1984 II HQ article in the NY Times about coming to work sick with the Flu virus is not "News". As people get worked up over the game, they neglect a few important things—like not double-dipping. As people shout and cough and the guacamole gets progressively filled with people's saliva, the chances of spreading the flu increase. Tulane University just analyzed 35 years worth of flu data, and published the disturbing results in the American Journal of Health Economics. If a city had a team playing in the Super Bowl, its mortality rates due to influenza jumped. Based on data from 1974 through 2009, cities with teams in the Super Bowl saw 18 percent increases in influenza mortality for people over 65. Multiple virus + bacteria in body sweat. Young women can do to greatly cut their risk of breast cancer later in life... they didn't mention lead atoms or other elements in the water and air, each year between 98,000 and 440,000 people die as a result of preventable errors in hospital. 2-2-2016 "Why don't you just kill me now?" My brain from the Battered women shelters in every city and town in the USA, No! Football players brain is on this table it once belonged to a pro-football player. It's also much bigger than average, so it may have been the brain of a very big man—perhaps he played lineman. Those are the only things I know about it before Ann McKee starts cutting it into pieces. Boston University neuropathologist Ann McKee examines the brain of a recently deceased former professional football player. Several minutes later something else is becoming clear: this brain is pretty messed up. "I think this guy had CTE," says McKee, a professor of neurology and pathology at the Boston University School of Medicine and director of neuropathology for the New England Veterans Administration Medical Centers. She and her colleagues will ultimately examine the brain's tissue down to the microscopic level to determine for sure whether it was afflicted with the progressive neurodegenerative disorder called chronic traumatic encephalopathy, or CTE. But she can already see telltale patterns of atrophy, or shrinkage of the delicate tissue in several areas. I'm part of a small audience watching as McKee proceeds to slice this football player's brain up like she might a loaf of bread. As she goes along, she lays the slices on the table and points out various signs of disease. "It's amazing what they do to their brains," she says. Kerry, McCain, Jimmy Carter, Hillary, never put the brain between their index finger and thumb + felt its texture and pondered its electronics and consciousness! This is why they killed millions and 100's of millions at Saint Jude and in Iraq + Vietnam. Along with trillions of Jewish Aliens and everyone at NASA!

2-2-2016 "Why don't you just kill me now?" Chef not a women MD Suicide - "Benoît Violier's Death Shines Light on High-Pressure Restaurant World" By DAN BILEFSKY and KIM SEVERSON Benoît Violier in 2013. The French-Swiss chef was found dead on Sunday at his home in Crissier, near Lausanne, Switzerland. In the rarefied galaxy of restaurants that have received the Michelin guide's highest honor, three stars, Benoît Violier's, in Switzerland, was by one measure the most glittering. Only two months ago his establishment, the Restaurant de l'Hôtel de Ville in Crissier, near Lausanne, was designated the best restaurant in the world in La Liste, rankings commissioned by the French Foreign Ministry – an honor that only added luster to the glory of French chefs (he was born in France) in the face of competition from plucky foreign rivals. But on Monday, his friends and associates in the restaurant industry were groping to understand why Mr. Violier, at 44, had apparently shot himself to death over the weekend at his home in Crissier. And they asked whether he was the latest victim of a high-pressure world that demands perfection, shuns signs of weakness and promotes a culture where culinary demigods can be demoted with the stroke of a pen.

2-2-2016 The arrest of two Virginia Tech students in the abduction and murder of a 13-year-old girl who posted on a Facebook group called Teen Dating and Flirting – and showed a neighbor girl texts she said she had exchanged with an 18-year-old man – has set off new concerns about the dangers to young people who seek liaisons on social media. The two students – David Eisenhower, 18, of Columbia, Md., and Natalie M. Keepers, 19, of Laurel, Md., both aspiring engineers – are being held without bond; they made brief court appearances Monday but did not enter pleas. They are charged in the death of Nicole Madison Lovell, 13, a liver transplant recipient who disappeared from her home here last week. Two Virginia Tech Students Arrested in Girl's Death. The murder has stunned this college community, though Virginia Tech, the site of a 2007 massacre that remains the deadliest shooting by a single gunman in the nation's history, is no stranger to sorrow and tragedy. And while the authorities have not said what, if any, role social media may have played in the killing, the girl's electronic communications, and suggestions that she was bullied, have stirred deep concern here. "Concerns Over Social Media Link to Virginia Girl's Killing" By HAWES SPENCER, SHERYL GAY STOLBERG and RICHARD PÉREZ-PEÑAFEB These NY Times reporters should have wrote headlines... "Concerns about a Battered Womens Shelter in every city and town in the USA, Hell Social Media is infected by Tim Cook and General Hate Crimes against women. 2-2-2016 Cardiac Arrest at Yale or Key West... best place. Not... Bulgaria. Etem Erol, a senior Yale lecturer in Turkish, passed away after suffering from a heart attack in January while on vacation in Bulgaria. He was born in 1955 and was buried in the town of his birth, Akçay, Turkey. He was 60 years old. Erol, who had taught at Columbia University before coming to Yale, was a historian and language pedagogue. He taught all of the University's modern Turkish and Ottoman Turkish classes, and his colleagues and students said his presence was felt far beyond the classroom, from interacting with the New Haven Turkish community to sponsoring cultural events and film screenings. In all such endeavors, they said, Erol brought his signature energy and smile, qualities that will be sorely missed. Cardiac Arrest at Yale or Key West... best place. Not... Bulgaria. 2-1-2016 LONDON — Scientists in the UK have been granted permission to genetically modify human embryos in a bid to gain a deeper understanding of the earliest moments of human life. Following the green light from regulators Human Fertilisation and Embryology Authority (HFEA), experiments could begin in the next few months, according to the BBC. However, scientists will not be allowed to implant the embryos into a woman. The research – which will be undertaken at the Francis Crick Institute in London on embryos in the first seven days after fertilisation – could uncover what causes miscarriages. In the UK, it's estimated that a miscarriage occurs in 15-20% of pregnancies, with 85% of miscarriages occurring in the first 12 weeks of pregnancy. "The reason why it is so important is because miscarriages and infertility are extremely common, but they're not very well understood," Dr Kathy Niakan of the Francis Crick Institute said earlier this year.

Our TVs and the services that send video to them have changed radically over the last 15 years, but we still rent cable and satellite boxes as if it were 2001 all over again.

The obvious option to renting a digital video recorder or tuner is to buy a TiVo DVR. But a) that doesn't work with satellite, and b) the $15/month service fee makes it hard to save money unless you can snag the occasional sale on a TiVo with lifetime service included.

It used to be that you could count on getting local cable channels with only a digital TV's built-in "QAM" tuner, but cable operators increasingly encrypt that feed. That lets cable firms turn on service for a new customer without sending a truck to their house, but it also inconveniences people like the reader who sent me the e-mail above.

Depending on your TV provider, you may be able to get rid of the boxes attached to the second or third TVs in your house and subtract their $10 or so monthly add-on costs from your budget.

Time Warner Cable, the second-largest cable operator in the U.S., is more flexible than most about this. It provides apps to view your channel lineup on a Roku media player, an Xbox 360 game console and some Samsung smart TVs as well as iOS and Android devices.

(New York-area viewers can also try a newer, Roku-only option that doesn't require a conventional box on the first TV in the house; service starts at $9.99 a month, but a package with ESPN and the other usual big-name channels runs $49.99.)

Charter, which is lobbying for government approval to buy TWC, offers a similar app for Roku boxes, which start at $50.

Verizon's Fios TV includes apps that allow box-free viewing on Xbox 360 and Xbox One consoles and Samsung smart TVs and Blu-ray players, while AT&T's U-Verse has apps for iOS, Android, Amazon's Fire TV players and Xbox One consoles.

With other cable services, however, you either have to content yourself to watching TV on a tablet or phone or deal with connecting a laptop to the TV, with or without wires.

For instance, Comcast, the largest cable firm in the U.S., offers iOS and Android apps. But since it disables video output in each, your only no-box viewing option is to bring up its TV Go site in a laptop's Chrome browser, then send that video to a Chromecast plugged into a set.

Optimum offers a similar set of video apps with the same overall issues, while Cox only offers Web access to "some of your favorite TV networks."

Satellite broadcasters DirecTV and Dish Network also offer iOS and Android apps as well as Web streaming. The former also allows box-free viewing of DirecTV programming on extra TVs in your home if they include a feature called RVU, but that costs extra.

Finally, you can watch many channels you pay for in their own apps and at their sites if you log in with your cable or satellite account -- an option that prior studies have found goes unused by many viewers.
