6-28-2019 Parking in Saudi Arabia and Qatar is free, part of the Quality of life that goes with $777 Trillion in Oil Revenues from the parked cars in the USA. "In Washington DC, where I still live (and Will no longer does), the price of street parking varies wildly by hour and block. Near his downtown apartment, parking was particularly nightmarish. If I got lucky and scored a spot nearby, parking cost $3.50 per hour until 4 p.m., $1.50 per hour until 10 p.m. and then nothing until morning, when, at 7, hourly rates shot up to $5.50. To me, a 23-year-old working as a research assistant, that seemed egregious - So egregious Greg wrote this Quality of Life cost of Parking in 2 different 1984 Nations - will 3 if you count Qatar which Saudi Arabia does not count. Grin $ Parking at Starbucks to pick up WiFi because Comcast will not make WiFi free in the USA is another Quality of life free in Saudi Arabia and Qatar. Comcast no free WiFi seems and is egregious as this was masterminded by the Traffic Jam Masterminds in our government. "The good news? There's an app for this (of course) called ParkMobile that lets you feed the meter from your phone. I discovered the app early on in my days with Will, before it was presumed that I would spend the night." " For example, if Will kept sleeping while I lay awake, my staying didn't seem worth $5.50 an hour. Admitting this made me feel heartless, especially knowing he would soon move away and our relationship would end." "Perhaps ours was a sprawling romance that stretched across years and continents, frequently apart but always reconnecting. This kind of love had no price." "At that point I was so invested in the possibility of it all, so busy wondering if what I felt could turn into love, that I would have paid anything for 24 hours together." Yes she is getting to the good part about life and love in 12 Trillion Galaxies and Soul Mates for 12 Trillion Years driving and parking in other Galaxies. Yes! A romantic future in a Universe of 12 Trillion Galaxies! So egregious Greg has to mention we live in a Universe of 12 Trillion Galaxies, Yes!

6-27-2019 Nobel's in Medicine bacteria, which cause diseases like scarlet fever and strep throat, are often carried harmlessly on the skin, and spread easily between people through contact. Infections are usually mild, but they can turn life-threatening if they enter the bloodstream. Those with immune systems that are compromised by old age or illness are at particular risk.

6-27-2019 Nobel's Ivermectin, which was discovered in Streptomyces avermitilis bacteria in 1975, is a powerful drug that kills many types of parasitic worms. Because ivermectin lingers in the blood, it also kills insects that bite humans, including mosquitoes, lice and mites. Its inventors shared the 2015 Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine. It works by causing the parasite's cell membrane to increase in permeability, resulting in paralysis and death. Link a super computer simulation here, grin. Click Here!

6-27-2019 Russian Oil Wealth beyond belief at $777 Trillion, did Putin tell the Kids? Russian teenagers are not fans of Putin — and now they're almost old enough to vote for the 2 White Men at 1984 HQ in Moscow. Some of these teens in Moscow are Jewish and know the 2019 Ford WindmillCAR driven into Mecca will put an end to Allah and God is Great for giving us $777 Trillion in Oil Revenue. Yes they know Jimmy Carter gave them $777 Trillion, grin. Saudi efforts to stay close to Mr. Trump's White House have been undeniably successful. However, the kingdom may come to regret betting everything on a presidency that appears more representative of the uglier aspects of America's past than its future. In the coming years, the regime risks finding itself running out of cash, out of friends and out of time. By David Wearing (@davidwearing) is a specialist on British-Gulf relations and the author of "AngloArabia: Why Gulf Wealth Matters to Britain." "Polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons are formed when any kind of organic matter," primarily fat that drips off meat and down into the grill grates, "gets burned, because the carbon inside is being combusted in the flames, and those hydrocarbons get carried up in the smoke," said Rashmi Sinha, senior investigator in the Division of Cancer Epidemiology and Genetics at the National Cancer Institute. The resulting smoke can envelop the meat and coat it in the potentially carcinogenic compounds.
