7-16-2019 Priest Son murdered her - the suspect had admitted to hitting her with his car, to disable her so that he could rape her. He put her in his car trunk and moved her to a cave, about six miles away from the conference center, that had been used as a bunker in World War II, the police said. They said he told officers that he had raped her before throwing her in the ventilation shaft of the cave and replacing its seal. Suzanne Eaton, 59, a prominent developmental biologist who had been in Crete for a conference, set off an international online campaign by friends and family members to find her. Her remains were discovered on July 8, six days after she was last seen alive. A coroner found that she had been asphyxiated, and ruled that her death had resulted from a criminal act. A 27-year-old man has been arrested, a police spokesman, Theodoros Chronopoulos, said on Tuesday. Local news reports described the suspect, whose name was not released, as a farmer with two children, who is the son of a priest. Professor Eaton led a research group at the Max Planck Institute of Molecular Cell Biology and Genetics in Dresden, Germany, and was a professor at the Biotechnology Center of the Dresden University of Technology. 7-16-2019 Edison II Power Failure cause in NYC. GE - power failure that plunged a broad swath of Manhattan into darkness for five hours on Saturday night was caused by the failure of some of Consolidated Edison's equipment near West 65th Street, officials of the utility said on Monday. The trouble that cut the flow of electricity to more than 72,000 customers started with a 13,000-volt cable that burned up at West 64th Street and West End Avenue, Con Edison said. Dark smoke billowing from manhole covers in the street drew the attention of passers-by and city officials, but Con Edison's executive initially dismissed the burning cable as too routine to have played a significant role in the blackout.

7-16-2019 Battery Toaster and Microwaves invented by Edison II - GE Power Failure cause in NYC. GE - He likened it to plugging a toaster into an overloaded outlet at home. But instead of having a circuit breaker in the basement electrical panel pop open and require resetting, the entire panel stopped working. Rather than stopping the flow of electricity to one outlet, the protective system cut all power throughout the house.

7-16-2019 Edison Cable TV not Comcast would have been invented by Edison II - GE Power Failure - It is then stepped down again to a voltage appropriate for feeding under the streets of the city and into apartment and office buildings. The ordinary 13,000-volt cable that burned on Saturday was fulfilling that role when it started emitting worrisome smoke. But the instigator turned out to be the smoking cable, after all, Mr. Cawley said. The ordinary 13,000-volt Comcast Cable TV was not invented for Star Wars 2019 Ford WindmillCAR's that generated super cold electricity of 1 trillion volts super cold at -254 C. Change the Comcast Cable line up for new shows invented by Einstein II.

But he said it could take weeks to fully understand why the failure cascaded from a substation on West 49th Street through neighborhood after neighborhood. Mr. Cawley said there were redundancies built into the power grid to prevent failures from spreading, but "this event sort of got past that, and resulted in a large outage at the West Side station."
